

THE Gleichen Call

TWENTY-SECOND YEAR NO. 32

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 7, 1928

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

Church Anniversary and Old-Timers Social

The anniversary service held in the United Church Sunday night was well attended and the fact that a very heavy dust storm came up suddenly from the west and raged for nearly two hours, which undoubtedly kept many at home who had announced their intention of being present.

Rev. Jos. Lee was the speaker, assisted in the service by Rev. Mr. Corcoran, while the choir materially aided with the singing and besides a solo by Mrs. Hutchison rendered an anthem which was much appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Lee was a student in charge of this field when the Methodist church was built in Gleichen twenty years ago, and it was mostly due to his efforts that the erection of the church was finally accomplished. It was therefore most appropriate that on the observance of its twentieth anniversary that he should be present and preach on this occasion; and it was with no little pleasure to a goodly number present, who were in attendance at the first service held in this edifice that they were brought back over twenty years of time as they listened to the same voice of the then student who they learned during his residence in Gleichen of a little over two years to hold the highest esteem and respect, by his thoughtfulness and readiness to assist in everything that meant not only the best interests of the community but also the personal elevation of the individuals.

At the outset of his discourse he referred most kindly to several individuals, who have long since passed away and were among those who twenty years ago who aided in the erection of the church. Throughout his sermon based on love he was given a most attentive hearing and brought to the old-timers many pleasant recollections of the same thoughts the speaker so earnestly tried to impress on their minds long, long ago.

While at the service Sunday evening there were present 28 persons who came to Gleichen twenty years or more ago, on Monday night there were still more of the old-timers present of twenty years standing and how many of fifteen years no estimate was kept, when a most enjoyable social evening was spent.

A short musical program was rendered by Gerald Yates, Mrs. Maclean, Ella and Ollie Robinson, Frank Sharp, and Mrs. D. Hutchison, which was much enjoyed and appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Corcoran, as chairman, read a number of letters which he appropriately described as a modern version of the Acts of Apostles. In this issue it would be quite impossible to attempt anything concerning these voluminous letters written by students and pastors once in charge of the church in Gleichen. However, in the next issue of the Call extracts from some of them will appear. Appended is a list of the names and present address of the gentlemen who wrote:

Rev. Andrew Boyd, Admiral Sask. This letter did not arrive until Tuesday morning and will be read at the evening service in the United Church next Sunday.

Rev. A. Rennie, High River, Alta.
Rev. W. H. Irwin, Taber, Alta.
Rev. H. L. Dougan, Adanac, Sask.
Rev. R. N. Matheson, Kimberley, B. C.

Rev. G. G. Webber, Calgary, Alta.
Rev. F. M. Locke, Nanton, Alta.
Rev. Hector Fraser, Eagle Butte, Alta.

Rev. W. M. Ryan, St. John, N. B.
Rev. J. A. Donnelle, Saskatoon, Sask.

Rev. H. G. Jarrett, Alsack, Alta.
Rev. R. A. Scott, Cannington, Ont.

Many of these letters are quite humorous, and the noble cause is cause for much of the "pleasure" these reverends enjoyed while at Gleichen. Many names of local characters are mentioned with good stories connected thereto.

Rev. Mr. Lee gave a lengthy and detailed account of his experiences

ARMISTICE SERVICE

The veterans will then march to the cemetery where wreaths will be placed on the graves of those who have died since returning home.

All church bodies in the town will take part in the service and the public generally are asked to co-operate and help make this a memorable ceremony.

The senior girls of the public school will start selling poppies within the next day or two under the direction of the Gleichen branch of the B. E. S. L.

Opportunities come to everyone, but often the greatest opportunities are not grasped because it requires a little ready money to enable one to take advantage of them.

This point is emphasized by a well-known financier, who in an article on thrift says: "Those who have become leaders in the business world almost without exception found the turning point in their careers when they were able to take advantage of a great opportunity because they had the money at hand. In most cases the sum involved was small, but coupled with vision, ambition, cleanliness and self-mastery, these men were able to turn their nest eggs into colossal fortunes."

It is undeniable that the habit of saving comes hard for most people, but having once made a start it is comparatively easy to continue. Nothing inspires the confidence of the business men in a young person readily that the knowledge that he or she is able to save money, even though the amount saved from month to month is not large. Many a young man has been enabled to make a most desirable business connection through a reputation for thrift and having a little ready cash. The wise young person will begin saving early so as to be ready when the opportunity comes.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal with its wonderful improvements is recognized as the greatest money maker for farmers in Canada, while its magazine section is a gem unrivalled.

On Saturday November 10th, the RAMSAY MERCANTILE LTD., will have a representative of one of the big eastern manufacturers of ladies coats and dresses here. These goods can be sold right off the rack, the display will be a good one. Saturday, Nov. 10th all day.

While living in Gleichen, together with a strong appeal for the United Church, which was a united church here many years before the final legal process of the present union.

The ladies served delightful refreshments before the enjoyable social evening ended.

Tally Ho! For the Royal York Course

This old-time stage coach will run twice daily from the new Royal York Hotel, Toronto, to the new Royal York golf course, which is under construction in the beautiful Humber Valley area. The coach originally belonged to Major-General Sir Henry Pellatt, C.V.O., K.C.M.G., and will be used for the conveyance of guests of the Canadian Pacific hotelery, who will call after the approved fashion of a by-gone day at the Old Mill for the refreshment of man and beast. The route will be via the Lakeshore Boulevard, Sunnyside and the Humber Boulevard.

Georgian Singers Again Coming, Wednesday

The Georgian Singers and Players of Vancouver, are booked to appear in the Gleichen Community Hall, next Wednesday night, November 14th.

It will be remembered this group of artists appeared in Gleichen once before and all who heard them were well pleased with their performance and will gladly go to hear them again.

In fact it is no seldom Gleichen has the opportunity of hearing such excellent talent and it will be surprising indeed if a full house does not greet them.

This is the second annual tour of the Georgian Singers and countless friends made last year are expressing themselves "the program and personnel is better than last year." In fact the group are said to be the best in the west.

Mr. J. F. Edmondson, director, has been engaged in concert work for over twenty years. He has a rich baritone voice and is also a natural born comedian, appealing to the humor of his audience one minute and calling into play all their musical appreciation the next. His monologues are new, clean and humorous.

Isobel Jolliffe's soprano voice has justly earned her the title of "Scottish Nightingale" and her rendition of a number of the old folk songs carries her hearers back to the days of childhood and mother. As a graduate pupil of the famous Metropolitan Grand Opera Singer Giuseppe Inzerillo, she is predicted to go far in concert work.

Gloria Wilton, one of the most brilliant pupils of that eminent pianist Jan Cherniavsky is one of the most sought after pianists of the coast city. She also possesses a well trained contralto voice which appears to advantage in a number of ensemble selections.

William Kennedy, another graduate pupil of Giuseppe Inzerillo, is the basso profundo of the group. His ability to sway his audience either in solo or group singing has been amply proved by the many letters of praise received following his singing over CHRV at Vancouver. His rendering "Asleep in the Deep," a bass solo, requiring particular ability demonstrates his talent.

Horace Chapman, the silvered voiced lyric-tenor, has also had the privilege of completing his musical training under Giuseppe Inzerillo, who predicts that he will reach the pinnacles of the musical world. While the youngest of the group, his work stands out pleasingly, whether in solo or ensemble.

The male members of the group form a trio that is difficult to excel outside the larger music centres. Their work over CNRV has brought forth praise from numerous American artists.

The program is well varied so that not a dull moment appears. A change from the sublime to the ridiculous is provided when the entire company put on a short one act comedy skit. The action is fast, the fun furious but withal clean and enjoyable.

Rev. Dickson's Lecture Best of Three

The lecture delivered by the Rev. M. Dickson last Friday night in the Gleichen Community Hall titled, "Canada and Canadians from the viewpoint of a Scotsman," proved the deepest and best of his three lectures he has delivered in Gleichen, and no doubt will all who heard him think more deeply concerning the responsibilities of Canada and Canadians, as well as the opportunities we have. Naturally the reverend gentleman's humor occasionally was in evidence, yet his handling of the subject was more of a serious turn than his previous addresses. The hall was filled with a very attentive audience.

The chicken supper served by the Ladies Circle of the United Church previous to the lecture was quite in keeping with the very high class reputation they have earned for themselves in this direction and was greatly enjoyed.

When Mr. Dickson again visits Gleichen he may count upon a good reception and the ladies may also rest assured they can serve another such good feed anytime and it will be a long way from being a failure in attendance.

A coat and dress traveller will be at the Ramsay Mercantile Ltd. all day Saturday—next.

Several accidents happened last week. Julius Little started out for his homestead at Queenstown and his team ran away, throwing him off the load and a wheel passed over his ankle breaking it at the joint. H. West's team ran away and made a lively trip around town and smashed the rig to pieces, but fortunately nobody was hurt. Alex. McRae was kicked in the face and chest by a horse. It was necessary to put seven stitches in his jaw to sew up a big cut.

Require Spirit Of High Adventure

Emigrants Must Face Life In New Country With Stout Hearts

Go to the Dominions without a qualm. If you are in a job here which promises no outlet, do not fear to try your hand in another part of the Empire. There will always be an industrial barrier to mass importation of labor into the Dominions and Colonies, but none by the man of character, ability and willingness to work. Canada, particularly, is at the beginning of an era of vast prosperity. Let officialdom, if it will, multiply its regulations and its ordinances, but the fact remains that the Empire will be mainly built up in the future as in the past by the individuals who set out to better their fortunes with stout hearts and a sense of high adventure.

Germs Like Losing Battle

Loses Due To Insects Appear To Be Increasing

The economic entomologists, whose business is insect control, are confident of victory in the long run, but it is rather disconcerting to learn that the battle is going against them at present. Losses due to insects are said to be increasing; strangely enough, the reason assigned is the advance of civilization. Modern nations import plants and animals and their products from all parts of the world. Along with these come the insects that live upon them. Thus local pests tend to become universal.

Extension of speakers' itineraries for Canadian clubs, enlargement of the Canadian Club Magazine, radio programmes, and organization policy were discussed at Ottawa, at the first meeting this autumn of the executive committee of the Association of Canadian Clubs. Factories On the Prairie

Western Canada Becoming An Attractive Field For Industrial Enterprise

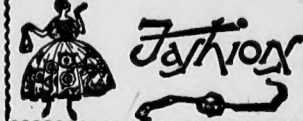

Factories are beginning to dot the prairies of Western Canada. The process of industrialization which has gone on in other lands is noticeable in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta. In these provinces, usually regarded as purely agricultural, there are now 2,210 factories, with an invested capital of $233,857,270. The employees number 36,436; the annual wage bill is $46,179,949, and the value of manufactured products $163,252,180.

Manitoba leads the three prairie provinces in the volume of its manufacturing industry, with an annual output of $132,718,452. Alberta follows with $83,425,631, and Saskatchewan is third with $47,108,097.

Flour mills contribute a large share of the total production, with an annual value of $51,113,136. Slaughtering and meat packing follows with $33,085,850. Butter and cheese account for $23,432,378. These industries are the natural outcome of farm production. More remarkable are items like these: Railway rolling stock, $10,286,727; electric light and power, $12,262,168; bags, cotton and jute, $5,077,484; petroleum products, $4,424,434.

With increasing prosperity and increasing farm production Western Canada, as the figures disclose, is becoming an attractive field for industrial enterprise.

Hunting In Canada

Western Provinces Offer Best In World Says New York Author

Western Canada offers not only the best big game hunting in the world, but also the best duck shooting, the unqualified declaration of Captain P. A. Curtis, noted author, New York business man and an editor on the staff of "Field and Stream," when interviewed by the Regina Daily Star.

After hunting big game in the Rockies this summer, Captain Curtis just completed a ten day outing shooting ducks in Qu'Appelle Valley with Jack Leader of Leader's Point in which he bagged 180 ducks.

"I have hunted all over the world but now I come to Canada every year for my hunting," the game authority declared. "And I am not going to keep what you have to offer the American sportsman here a deep dark secret, for all the details will be incorporated in my new book to be devoted entirely to hunting in Canada. With the duck shooting I did in your province, I can now say I have hunted in every part of Canada with the exception of the Yukon and my judgment that your country offers the finest hunting in the world is not just an idle guess or approximation of the truth—it is the truth."

The Canadian Rockies offer the best big horn mountain sheep hunting on the continent, Captain Curtis declared.—"British Columbia is not in it with Alberta." It was in Alberta, in the Brazeau region, that Captain Curtis brought down the Big Horn ram last year which possessed the world's best spread of horns. Saskatchewan and Alberta offer the finest duck hunting, the sportsman also declared in discussing this phase of the nimrod's roster of game, both small and large.

Saskatchewan game authorities are making a grave mistake in closing the prairie chicken season entirely, Captain Curtis opined in veering to a discussion of game regulations.

"In putting into force similar regulations a number of states across the line realized that it is far better to open the season for short period each year," he continued. "If prairie chicken hunting is kept closed there is a certain element in the community which will not respect the laws. But if Saturdays in November, for example, are thrown open, the real sportsmen, keen to protect the game, will exercise vigilance to see that this element is not permitted to slaughter the chicken illegally. Furthermore, if prairie chicken shooting is permitted for such short periods it keeps the flocks wild so they are not slaughtered when the season is thrown open and it kills the old birds so that the young stock will be kept sturdy."

Dog Beats Swimming Record

Swimming 153 miles from Albany to New York, in 44 hours 52 minutes, a German shepherd dog bettered man's record for the swim by about five hours. The dog swam two hours at a stretch and, like other swimmers was coated in grease.

A University of Chicago professor invited to address a club meeting, chose as his subject "The Need of Education." The following day a newspaper headline reported "Professor's Speech Shows Need of Education."

"Did you hear that Jack and Mabel are engaged?"

"Then Jack has finally succeeded?"

"No; he's succumbed."

If the ledges of the pastry of a fruit pie or tart are dampened with milk instead of water the fruit juice will not make the pastry sodden.

"You have spent half an hour looking through that newspaper. Why don't you buy it?"

"I have no time to read newspapers!"—Buen Humor, Madrid.

Manitoba Hydro Extensions

Comprehensive Plan For Extending Electrical Power To Cover Rural Districts

An extensive hydro development programme which would bring electrical power to practically every town in Manitoba and to farms where by use of electricity in its many ways the drudgery of rural life could be eliminated, was outlined by Hon. Donald G. McKenzie, newly appointed minister of mines and natural resources, in an address at Virden, Man.

Mr. McKenzie, who will be in charge of the provincial government's hydro development plans, outlined the programme at a meeting of the United Farmers of Manitoba, Brandon District.

Mr. McKenzie announced that the government has decided to present legislation providing for the payment of one-half the capital cost of all transmission lines, including a line to Brandon; new lines to all towns in Manitoba; all farm lines, and lines already constructed.

The legislation will also provide facilities which will permit of the construction of transmission lines to all parts of Manitoba within seven years. Under the plans, very low rates are assured, said Mr. McKenzie, for the rural users of power.

Will Improve British Trade With Prairies

Is Opinion Of Official On Bay Route To Old Country

"The Hudson Bay trans-Atlantic route will revolutionize British trade with the prairies just as the Panama Canal revolutionized trade with British Columbia, at a time when the west is becoming more and more ready to buy British goods."

Such was the observation made by A. M. Wiseman, deputy trade commissioner attached to His Majesty's Trade Commissioner's office in Winnipeg.

Mr. Wiseman's office serves for the promotion of the sale of British goods in Canada, and is under the department of overseas trade, London.

ONE-DISH DINNER

In many families it is a problem to serve up a simple meal on one course. Here is a dish that will please a family of six, besides having the indispensable elements of nourishment:

- 2 cups cooked macaroni.
- 1 cup cooked carrots (diced).
- 2 tablespoons grated onion.
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh red pepper.
- 1 cup chopped ham.
- 6 tablespoons buttered crumbs.
- 1 cup Borden's St. Charles Milk.
- 1 cup water.
- 2 tablespoons butter.
- 2 tablespoons flour.
- 1 teaspoon salt.
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water 35 minutes. Make a white sauce of butter, flour, milk, water, salt, paprika. Place a layer of macaroni in a well-greased baking dish. Sprinkle with ham, carrots and seasonings. Repeat until all are used. Pour over all the white sauce. Cover top with bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes.

Importing Fewer Potatoes

According to statistics from Washington, Canada's importations of American potatoes have declined from 919,783 bushels in 1924, to 479,596 bushels in 1927, owing largely to the increasing production of potatoes in the Dominion.

Training Schools For Juvenile British Immigrants

Boys To Be Given Free Passage-To Canada Under This Plan

The development of training schools for prospective juvenile immigrants under the Empire Settlement scheme and more effective methods for their selection in the British Isles, and their placement in Canada, are among the recommendations which will be made to Hon. Robert Forke, minister of immigration, as a result of a conference between British migration societies, Canadian child welfare organizations and federal and provincial immigration officials at Ottawa. This was stated to be the first time that all bodies interested in juvenile immigration have met in conference.

The use of training schools for British boys wishing to make their homes on Canadian farms met with unanimous approval. Under this scheme boys are given free passage to Canada after spending several months in schools in the British Isles, where they are trained in the work which they will take up here. The institution of a similar method of training 'teen-age girls in household tasks was recommended.

While the conference was held in camera it is understood that some opposition developed to the proposal that Canadian child welfare societies should play a greater part in the choice and supervision of children brought out by British migration societies. The latter organizations felt that control should remain with themselves in the main, but it was agreed that the resources of the Canadian societies might be utilized in some co-operative way. The methods of co-operation are to be worked out at later meetings between the different bodies.

The legal relationship of the societies to their respective wards should be definitely determined, it was decided, and the recommendation was made that uniform legislation be passed by the various provinces defining their legal rights.

The members approved the recommendation that the selection of the children in the British Isles should be under the supervision of a Canadian official and that rigid medical examinations be carried out, as well as investigations into their family background.

The agenda for discussion at the conference largely corresponded with recommendations published by the Canadian Council of Child Welfare as a result of a recent survey of juvenile immigration.

Many Other Ways

With the view of learning the art of boxing a young man went to a professor.

A few moments after they had begun the first bout the instructor floored his pupil with a neat half-hook.

"I say," spluttered the novice, as he struggled to rise, "is it necessary to knock me down like that?"

"Bless your heart, no, sir," grinned the old pugilist. "Stand up and I'll show you a dozen other ways."

Florist—"Want to say it with flowers? Yes? About two dozen roses?"

Bobbie—"No, about six. I don't want to say too much."

The Columbia and Fraser River regions may have been the most thickly settled Indian centres in this country in early times.

Reason For Butter Shortage

More Milk Made Into Cheese On Account Of High Prices

As the end of the dairying season approaches, there are 8,800,000 pounds less butter in cold storage in Canada than last year. Figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show 29,129,000 pounds in storage on Oct. 1, as compared with 38,008,000 pounds on the same date in 1927, and 32,175,000 pounds for the five-year average.

A similar depletion of cheese stocks is revealed. There were 27,793,000 pounds in storage on Oct. 1, a decrease of 7,977,000 pounds from last year's total of 35,770,000 pounds. The five-year average was 30,348,000 pounds.

The quantity of cheese graded up to the end of September of this year was 1,219,150 boxes, as compared with a total of 1,163,208 boxes for the same period in 1927, or an increase of 55,912 boxes.

The reason ascribed by Department of Agriculture officials for the lower stocks of butter and cheese this year as compared with last year is the higher prices prevailing for cheese in the export markets. More milk was made into cheese and less into butter as a result and both products have been exported quickly to meet the outside demand.

World's Busiest Railway

Million Passengers Travel On London Underground Every Day

The busiest and safest railway in the whole world is said to be the London Underground.

It has 1,600 cars, which travel 200,000 car-miles a day, carrying in that time as many as 1,200,000 passengers. It is run by a staff of 4,000 men by day, and 350 by night.

There are 159 miles of track, and every foot of it is inspected every night.

Each car is cleaned every three days, inspected every three weeks, and overhauled and rebuilt every fifteen months.

The number of tickets bought last year was 273,366,341. They weighed 220 tons.

It has automatic ticket machines, escalators, and headway clocks, and every possible device for making its passengers safe.

And all the passenger pays for this amazing service is 2 cents a mile!

"Pretty near got 'im that time, Donnie!" cried Andy gleefully. "If you an get 'im to lift 'is jaw off 'is shoulder, send in your right." Andy's hands were shaking with excitement, while Donald was cool and collected. "Let me go after him, Andy," he begged; "I can whip him at his own game."

"No, no!" admonished Andy, "keep on as you are. Don't try to swap punches with 'im!"

Garrieau's seconds were working over him feverishly. Pursell leaned over the heavily-breathing champion, his evil face sick with apprehension.

"What'd I tell yer?" he exclaimed. "They've stuck a ringer in on us; dat feller ain't no amachoor! If he beats ya we're both bums! Foul him dis round, for de—" he finished with a savage oath.

At the beginning of the third round Garrieau charged his elusive adversary like a mad bull. Donald easily side-stepped him and he plunged into the ropes. As he rebounded, Donald landed a left and danced safely away without reprisal.

"You can do pretty footwork," snarled the champion with a look of Simian ferocity, "but I'll get you, you—" There followed a burst of wild cursing. He tried to rush Donald to the ropes, feinted for the wind, and let loose a powerful right for the jaw. Paying no attention to the feint, Donald ducked the blow and, countering, shot his left to his opponent's mid-section. The champion grunted aloud, fell into clinch, and hung on grimly. The referee pried them apart. Again the crowd came to their feet to shout in a frenzy of excitement.

Garrieau fell into a clinch, then wrestled about until he placed his opponent between himself and the referee. He loosed his right in a terrific upper-cut that missed, but his left smashed with fearful force to Donald's groin the most brutal foul that can be delivered. The referee did not see the blow.

Donald's nerves quivered with agony. A wave of torment and the awful nausea that follows such a blow swept through him. His face writhing with anguish, his gloved hand clutching his groin, he crashed forward on his face. His body twitched for a moment, then lay still.

The crowd came to their feet and many moved toward the exits. Another victim, they thought, to the champion's terrible punch. A number at the ringside, who had witnessed the foul blow, stood upon their seats and screamed denunciations at the referee.

The referee stood with one hand on Garrieau's massive chest. The latter was lustfully straining forward while the fatal seconds were tolled off.

The roar of the crowd came to Donald's ears like the dash of waves on a distant shore. At the count of five his body quivered. At the count of eight, his jaw sagging, his face distorted, he struggled to his knees. He saw Andy's agonised face as through a fog and heard his desperate cry of appeal.

"Up, Donnie! Up!" At the count of nine Donald's benumbed muscles answered the call of his brain. With tremendous effort he staggered to his feet and found his arms about his face. The crowd yelled themselves hoarse in tribute to his courage.

Garrieau was upon him with a growl like a wild beast. Donald stood in the centre of the ring reeling drunkenly. Garrieau shot a terrific right for Donald's wind that struck his weakly protecting elbows. The impact carried him to the ropes, and he fell forward to his knees. Again the referee's arm rose and fell as he counted the seconds. Again Donald tottered to his feet to meet a fusillade of short-arm jolts that pierced his guard and sent him staggering.

The gong rang. With body swaying unsteadily and legs wavering, Donald walked to his corner and sank down heavily. What a blessed relief to lie and relax! His head felt leaden and there was a ringing in his ears.

His seconds worked over him in furious haste. Andy knew all the tricks of resuscitation: the upward sweep of hand on the mid-riff that brings the big nerve centre to life; the quick raising of the chest that brings air to the remote corners of the lungs. With a sudden choking in his throat, the little Australian realized that this boy was very dear to him. A prayer on his lips, his hands trembling, but sure and deft, he strove to restore the shattered nerves.

The colour came slowly to Donald's cheeks and the haze cleared away as the cold water was showered upon him. He felt his strength returning.

A long deep breath and he was himself again. He looked across the ring at Garrieau, whose vulture-like manager was leaning over him with an exultant look on his face. This brute had deliberately fouled him. A cold and terrible rage swept through every fibre of Donald's being. He had demeaned himself by entering the prize ring. This was bad enough, but to lose the battle! Never! He looked for his friends. Their faces, he saw, were tense and full of misery.

"Andy, I'm going after him," he declared in a hard voice.

Andy was about to remonstrate, but he caught a flash of the hard light in Donald's eyes, and the words died on his lips. He hesitated. Maybe he should have let Donald take the aggressive from the start.

"Are you strong enough, Donnie?" Donald's eyes held a dull glow.

"Yes!" he gritted.

Andy patted his arm as the gong rang. "Give 'im 'ell, Donnie!" And then added reverently, "May God giv 'im strength."

Donald shot from his corner as though thrown from a catapult to meet Garrieau before he was fairly out of his chair. The spectators held their breath. Was this the man who a minute before had walked staggering and beaten to his chair? When the referee pried the fighters apart after a fierce mix-up in the champion's corner, a puffed eye and a bloody face showed that Garrieau had absorbed severe punishment. Donald was everywhere, dancing in for a fierce rally and out again, always without a return.

The arena fairly rocked to the cheers of the crowd as Donald stood in the centre of the ring and exchanged punches with the champion. Head to head they stood while Donald's arms worked with such lightning speed that the champion's blows were smothered. And, marvel or marvels, the champion was giving ground. The pursued had become pursuer. The tide had turned. With his arms wound about his face the champion retreated. As he essayed a lead, Donald's fist smote his face before he could again cover up. Following relentlessly, Donald penetrated his opponent's guard with rights and lefts until the champion's face was a smear of red.

A bedlam of sound came from the audience as they stood on their seats and roared their admiration for the challenger's wonderful exhibition. Andy, his face set, his eyes bulging, clung to the corner of the ring.

Garrieau drove heavily at his elusive foe and missed. The impetus swung him to one side. For an instant his chin was without the protecting shelter of his shoulder. With a bewilderingly swift move Donald stepped forward, pivoted on his toes and with the full weight of his powerful young body behind it, he whipped his right to the champion's unprotected jaw. Plop! Garrieau fell upon his face and sprawled like a baboon on the floor. Donald walked to his corner, thrust his gloved hands towards Andy, who stood as though paralyzed, and said: "Take them off, Andy." His voice was audible throughout the arena. The referee rushed to Donald's side and raised his arm aloft in token of victory.

With a roar the crowd came to its senses to realize that the fight was over. Pandemonium broke loose. A struggling mass of humanity surged into the ring. Every man wanted to shake hands with the new champion. Garrieau, the possessor of the "punch" they had so much admired, was forgotten. The king is dead—long live the king! Such is life, especially in the boxing game!

CHAPTER V.

With much difficulty Donald and his friends forced their way through the cheering throng to the dressing-room. Weak and tired, Donald lay on a cot, while his handlers gently massaged his sore body. Andy moved to the cot and stood looking down on his protege.

Donald opened his eyes. "Hello, Andy," he smiled weakly.

"Hello, Donald," said Andy huskily, as he patted Donald's dark head.

Donald's hand stole out to meet the warm clasp of his friend.

"Some little fight," said Andy, summoning a smile.

"Not bad," agreed Donald. Gillis pulled his hat brim down over his eyes to hide his emotion. "I've a good mind to go out and give that brute another licking," he growled.

One of the promoters thrust his head through the door. "Come and get your dough!" he shouted.

"Strike me lucky!" returned Andy. "Those words 'ave a pleasant sound. He picked up a small handbag and left the room. In a few moments he returned, his face beaming. He tapped the satchel. "Chuck full," he said happily.

At the gymnasium they gathered in Andy's room, and for the first time Donald told them of the attempted "frame-up" proposed by Garrieau's manager, Douglas strode across the room and gripped Donald's hand. Not a word was uttered by anyone, but the silence was more eloquent than speech.

They were all in a happy mood after the prolonged strain of the day. Andy was in particularly high spirits. "Gentlemen," he began grandiloquently, "I 'ave before me on the t'ble 'ere a most, wonderful little 'andbag. All it 'ad in it this mornin' was a dirty collar and a shirt stud. Now," making a dramatic gesture, "it's the bloomin' 'orn of plenty!" He turned the satchel upside down and a mass of bills, coins and cheques fell upon the table.

"Ere, Gillis," cried Andy, as he selected a bill, "will you go out and get some champagne, and when you goes in the bar buy a drink for the 'ouse. Bring ginger ale for Donnie; 'is manager'll drink 'is share of the wine."

Andy sorted the money into piles and sat quietly counting for a few minutes. "Fifteen thousand and a few odd dollars," he announced.

"What!" ejaculated Donald. He was astounded. He had given the size of the purse little thought. "I had no idea it would be so much," he said in a surprised tone.

"Oh, the boxin' gyme is a great gyme," said Andy.

"Yes," remarked Douglas, "but after seeing that bout today I'm going to take up tiddlywinks instead; it's not so rough."

When the big man returned with the wine Donald turned to Douglas. "It seems that you and Gillis are old friends."

"Why, yes, Jack's been one of Dad's right-hand men for—how long, Jack?"

"About ten years," replied Gillis.

"And I'm equally interested to know how you and Jack know each other so well," said Douglas curiously.

"I met Donald on the train comin' out," answered Gillis quickly.

"Come on, boys," cried Andy, "we'll drink to the new champ—to Donnie's health." Andy held his glass aloft. "Boys, I can't make much of a speech, as I 'ave only 'ad one drink. Stand up while we drink to our Donnie. I knows that 'e's goin' to leave me, and that 'e's goin' to give up the boxin' gyme. I knows that 'e isn't in the 'abit of mixin' with the likes of me. I knows that I'm lucky to be blackin' the boots of a man like 'im. But when I knows that 'e went into this fight to 'elp a poor little bloke like me out of an 'ole, I'm proud, boys, I'm proud! I've seen many a fight, and I've seen many a gyme man. But strike me blind if Donnie didn't this day teach me something about sheer grit. When 'e came stumblin' to me at the end of that—that third round—I—" He stopped. "You know what 'appened," he continued in a husky voice. "I ask nothin' better'n to 'ave 'im for me pal. 'Ere's to the gymest man that ever stepped in shoe-leather! 'Ere's to 'im!" Andy turned away quickly to light a cigarette. His eyes were moist. The room was silent.

Donald was deeply moved by his little friend's show of feeling. Douglas broke the silence. "You got back to the Coast just in time, Jack."

"How's that?"

"Dad has started on the biggest job that he's tackled yet."

"What is it?"

"Do you remember the big tract of timber that he bought in the Cheakamus Valley?"

"Yes, he bought on my advice," answered Gillis.

"Well, he's going to run a railroad in and build sawmills, and saw the logs right on the spot instead of shipping them to the Coast."

"Good!" said Gillis heartily. "There's a wonderful stand of timber in that valley."

"But here's the best part of it," Douglas went on eagerly: "Dad's going to send you in to cruise the timber around Summit Lake, and I'm to go with you. It's a wonderful country. I was up there last summer."

He turned to Donald. "Will you go with us?"

"I'll be glad to," assented Donald. "Good!" cried Douglas. "It will be fine camping with you and Jack."

Little Andy sat patiently listening to this lively conversation, in which he had been completely ignored. He could contain himself no longer.

"I s'y," he blurted, "am I such a blinkin' dwarf that you've forgotten that I'm in this 'ere crowd? Isn't me 'ead above the t'ble? Where the 'ell do I get off on this 'ere bloomin' picnic, I asks you?"

One look into the Australian's seriously comic face with its heavy blond eyebrows wagging up and down set Douglas into paroxysms of laughter. "Andy," he declared, "I'm going to take you along, even if we have to mark you 'excess baggage.' Can you cook?"

Finances in Good Shape

Canada Now On Easy Street Says Hon. J. A. Robb

"We are on easy street," remarked Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, Mr. Robb was discussing Canada's financial position. He pointed out that Canada had already retired $22,000,000 of the $53,000,000 short term bonds falling due October 15, and would retire the balance with cash from the Dominion treasury.

"We have sufficient money to meet the $53,000,000 maturing," said Mr. Robb, "and some left over. We hope if providence continues kind to us and gives us good crops, and business keeps just as good as it is now without even getting any better, to take care of the maturities coming along from now until 1933. In 1933 we have some very heavy maturities of $400,000,000, but I don't anticipate any refunding of major amounts before 1933."

Mr. Robb declined to predict or comment on the possibility of taxation reduction announcements in his next budget speech.

Canada's Exhibit Outstanding

Dominates All Entries in Imperial Fruit Show At Manchester

The Canadian exhibit dominates the show and is the best ever. This is the cable advice received by the department of agriculture from Manchester regarding the Canadian fruit exhibit at the Imperial fruit show. In sending the list of prize winners in the Canadian apple section J. Forsyth Smith, Canadian fruit trade commissioner in the United Kingdom and Europe, describes the show the best since its inauguration in 1921 and the Canadian exhibit as the outstanding feature of the whole show.

All parts of the Empire are represented.

In the Canadian section in the class for snow apples the first prize was won by Boyd Honey, of Abbotsford, Que. In the McIntosh class, first went to G. H. Hilliard, Kamloops, B.C. John Slayter of Gasperau, N.S., took second in the class for Cox's Orange Pippins and James Lowe, of Oyama, B.C., won first for Jonathan, first for Newton Pippin, and second for Winter Banana.

Warning To Motorists

Coming Of Fall Brings Danger Of Closed Garage

Again with the coming of fall, the tragedy of the closed garage will be re-enacted in many a city.

It is unfortunate that this should recur, year in and year out, despite the education and repeated warnings broadcast to motorists. But somehow we grow lax during a pleasant summer, and we forget.

But let us not forget this time. Let us remember that the fumes that escape from the exhaust of our motors are deadly, so much so that only one part in 10,000 of pure air is said to be a hazard to life.

As the weather gets colder, it is becoming more difficult to start our cars. We start the motor within the warm, closed garage—and forget the danger that besets us.

Carbon monoxide gas is a treacherous poison. It strikes us without warning. We are used to the cars exhaust fumes, so we think nothing of smelling them. But in this exhaust lies our danger, unless we are alert to it.

Better back the car out of the garage if you must fuss over it. Or at least open the doors wide and see that they stay open.

A GREAT PUZZLE TO CAREFUL PARENTS

One of the greatest puzzles to the careful parent is to know just what medicine to give the little ones. When the child falls ill with griping pains; is seized with cold or fever, refuses food or vomits what he has taken, when he cries a great deal and cannot get the sleep so necessary to the growing child, the parent is in a quandary. What is to be done on such occasions? As often as not there is not a suitable medicine in the house. The puzzle is what to give him to set him right quickly.

It is to meet such emergencies that Baby's Own Tablets were designed. These pleasant little Tablets quickly reduce fever, break up colds, relieve constipation and indigestion and allay teething pains. They quiet the nerves and promote restful health-restoring sleep. They are guaranteed absolutely harmless and safe for even the youngest and most delicate baby.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Scientist Makes a Strange Discovery

Convinced That Human Body Has Radio Tuning Point

C. R. England, a research scientist of the Bell Telephone laboratories, New York, says that after extensive experiments he was convinced of the soundness of his theory that the human body has a radio tuning point.

The tuning point of his body, he said, was 3.66 metres and was discovered accidentally while he was working on radio oscillators producing very short wave lengths, England explained.

Starting with five metres, he said he worked downward gradually and encountered difficulties when he went below four metres. A search for the cause disclosed that his body was working as a tuned circuit, he said.

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhoea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

TEN YEARS AFTER

November 11 will mark the tenth anniversary of the signing of the armistice which ended the World War, after ten million lives had been sacrificed and close to 200 billion dollars had been lost by the opposing nations.

The armistice was preceded by the surrender of Bulgaria on September 29, of Turkey on October 31 and of Austria-Hungary on November 3, 1918, leaving Germany the only power opposed to the Allies.

Diplomatic correspondence leading to the armistice was begun on October 6, when the German government appealed to President Wilson for the conclusion of peace on terms previously outlined by him. On November 5 the Germans were notified that the allies were willing to negotiate an armistice along these lines, but that the details would be dictated by Marshal Fock, commander of all the allied forces.

The terms of the armistice were delivered to the German representatives on November 8, with a formal demand that they be accepted or rejected within 72 hours. No discussion or modification of the terms laid down was permitted. The Germans accepted the conditions and signed the armistice at 5 a.m., November 11, the cessation of hostilities occurring at 11 a.m., this hour, oddly enough, the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

Considering the deplorable conditions which existed in the world at the close of the war, the recovery of the nations involved, although by no means complete, has been "remarkable during the intervening ten years.

MORE AND BETTER HENS

Farmers' wives formerly looked upon the poultry flock as merely a means of better providing for a family table, with possibly a little "pin money" from the surplus chickens and eggs. For these purposes it was not thought that any particular care was necessary in the selection of breeds or in the general handling of the flock.

But that idea is fast being discarded and the thrifty farm home-maker now looks upon her poultry as an important source of cash income. She has found that it is little more trouble to have a big flock than it is to have a small flock, and the big flock is a money-maker.

Not only does she have larger flocks, nowadays, but she has better stock and employs scientific methods in her poultry raising. More attention is given to proper feeding and sanitation; poor layers are culled out; infertile eggs are produced and they are marked clean, graded according to size and color.

A good sized flock of pure-bred chickens affords one of the most dependable sources of farm income.

LAST OF THE 600

Although the famous charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava, immortalized by Tennyson, occurred 74 years ago, on October 25, 1854, the last survivor of that "gallant six hundred" died only recently.

He was Edwin Hughes, a sergeant major, who until his death received assistance from a special fund raised for the veterans of that heroic charge which was an incident of the Crimean War, in which Turkey, with the aid from England, France and Sardinia, defeated Russia.

The Light Brigade, composed of 673 British cavalrymen, charged the Russian field artillery over a distance of a mile and a half, losing 247 men and 497 horses in 20 minutes.
They cut down many of the Russian gunners, but were forced to retreat in disorder. Their dashing exploit raised the morale of the allies, however, and diminished that of the Russians.

A few days later, at the battle of Inkermann on November 5th, 8,000
British held 50,000 Russians at bay in a hand to hand conflict until the French arrived and routed the enemy.
Then after a year's siege, during which the allies suffered untold hardships, the great fort of Sevastopol was evacuated by the Russians and the war ended. It was during this seige that Florence Nightingale organized the first nursing system in military hospitals.

Thus, while the charge of the Light Brigade was unsuccessful, it was a moral victory which probably turned the tide of war against the forces of the Czar. It was a stirring memory that Edwin Hughes carried with him during his long life.

The new Canadian Pacific liner,
"Duchess of York" has been launched at Clydebank, Scotland, by Her Royal Highness the Duchess of York. H.R.H. the Duke of York and other notables were present.
The vessel is 20,000 tonnage and is the fourth and last of the "Duchess" quartet of steamships built for the service of the St. Lawrence route.

Two hundred Chincheilla rabbits accompanied by a ton of special food for their twelve thousand mile journey from England to New Zealand were recently handled by the Canadian Pacific Express Company.
The little animals were bred in Lincolnshire and are to serve as a nucleus of a rabbit fur farm in Auckland. As rabbits are regarded as a pest in the Antipodes special arrangements had to be made to allow them to enter the country.

George Jihavlec, son of the Finance Minister of Czechoslovakia, is the latest addition to Alberta's list of notable farmers, led by H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, whose E. P. ranch is only one royal demeane among several, including that of the Duke of Sutherland.
Young Jihavlec, who is only 22 years of age, has settled near Lethbridge, where he is gaining farm experience on the farm of C. R.
Daniel before launching out for himself.

Thirty-five visits and departures of Canadian Pacific steamships will be made in and out of the Port of Saint John during the coming winter season, between December 1st and April 28th. It is officially announced. This represents an increase of three over the previous season. The two new "Duchess" class steamers, the "Duchess of Richmond" and the "Duchess of York," make their first appearance on the sailing list, the former being due in New Brunswick on March 23rd and the latter on March 30th.

The promotion of two of Canada's best known hotelmen to important posts in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been announced by the hotel department of the company. B. A. Neale, manager of the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec, has been appointed manager of the new 1,200-room skyscraper hotel in Toronto, the Royal York, which will be opened to the public next summer. His place in the great hotelery at Quebec will be taken by John Johnston who has been assistant manager at the Chateau for some time.

The distribution of dividend money every three or six months to shareholders of industrial and commercial enterprises in Canada runs into many millions of dollars a year. The money goes to an army of people throughout the country, many of whom depend on it for their living and it has much to do with the continued prosperity of Canada. About 88 companies are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange, a small part of the total number of those making regular dividend disbursements in Canada, but for the third quarter of this year these 88 companies distributed in dividends over twenty million dollars, of which the Canadian Pacific alone accounted for $7,- 500,000. This was by far the largest distribution by any one company, the next largest being $981,608.
The number who regularly benefit by these distributions of profits is increasing every year, thus showing a more general tendency on the part of the Canadians to invest their earnings in the stocks of well established and sound industrial concerns.

Lord Nelson at Halifax Opened

Above, the Lord Nelson viewed as from the Botanical Gardens. Inset is a very charming corner of the lounge, showing the bust of Lord Nelson in the corner. Mr. E. W. Beatty was the guest of honor on the formal opening.

E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in speaking as guest of honor at the banquet which marked the official opening of the Lord Nelson Hotel at Halifax, referred to the tourist attractions of Nova Scotia as being second to none on the continent. This from a man as well travelled as he is, as the head of the World's Greatest Travel System was a decided appreciation. "In addition to the opportunities for sport which are unsurpassed and attract tourists from both the United States and Canada, you have the historic associations such as typified by the Evangeline legend which the Canadian Pacific and Dominion Atlantic Companies have successfully preserved and featured. It seems to us only right that the railway which came into existence as a fulfillment of one of the terms of Confederation should encourage such travel to your cities and other historic places," he said. "That travel has grown apace during the last few years and it was because of this fact among others that at the solidification of your business men we joined with them in the building of this hotel. It is for the same reason that we are building a modern hotel with other tourist facilities at Digby."

The Lord Nelson Hotel, while operated under the direction of the Canadian Pacific Railway is the result of a sincere effort on the part of the people of Halifax who have long been working for a modern hostelry which would adequately take care of the business which offered in the city. It is situated in the heart of the city and fronting on the Botanical Gardens that have helped to make this old city famous.

Within and without, the appearance of the hotel reflects great credit on its architects and builders.
In building and in decoration it is Georgian in character, and throughout the hotel and particularly in the public rooms, a most successful effort has been made to express the period recalled by the historic name associated with it. Immediately inside the front doors is a handsome and spacious lobby, which at once gives the keynote of Georgian decoration. The hotel offices are here as also are other public services such as elevator lobby, telephone room, cigar shop, etc.

The mezzanine floor and ladies waiting room leads up from this, and on one side of the lobby is a short flight of steps leading up to the assembly lounge. In this room and in the adjacent assembly hall the attempt to recapture the atmosphere of two hundred years ago has been particularly successful. The chief feature is the fine fireplace over which is an excellent copy in oils of the full length portrait of Lord Nelson which was painted shortly before his death. In one corner stands a fine copy of the well known bust of this hero, and on the center table is a splendid model of his ship "The Victory."

The end of this room opens into the assembly hall which is large enough to seat about 250 people comfortably. At one end is an ample stage with the usual dressing rooms and disappearing footlights.

Leading from the other side of the lobby up a short flight of marble steps is a foyer, and beyond that, the main dining room. On the floor beneath the lobby are a series of fine shops opening on the street, and here also is the spacious grill, which in keeping with the nautical flavour notable elsewhere in the building, is termed "The Ward Room."

Its woodwork is of oak and its ceiling crossed by beams. It is lit by ships lanterns of brass and by candelabra designed from binocular lights and ships steering wheels. The furniture also is of stout oak. Other features of this floor are a barber shop, beauty shop and the usual public services.

The bedroom floors include a number of fine suites of which the Royal Suite is an outstanding example. Like the other it has a character of decoration in keeping with the rest of the hotel. It consists of sitting room, dining room and two bedrooms, and its furnishings include some fine examples of early Georgian. The bathrooms and general plumbing and heating arrangements throughout are up to the most modern standard as also are all the facilities for public service.

Proposal Is Made For A New League Of Great Powers Only

Colorado Springs, Colo.—A new League of Nations composed of great powers only and including the United States, was proposed by Ralph D. Blumenfeld, editor of the London Express and head of the British Journalistic Mission touring this country under the auspices of the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

The present League of Nations, he said, has become hopelessly ineffective and a danger to international relations.

Blumenfeld said the League was hamstrung by its own cumbersome constitution and was now a "giant carrying talking machine, an overgrown bureaucratic debating society which is a fulcrum for every crank idea."

In its place, he proposed a League of Nations which would be the result of spontaneous agreement between Great Britain and the United States, without elaborate treaties. Each of the powers, under his plan, would keep order among the minor states.

"There's no country in the world that wants peace so much and so ardently as Great Britain," said the London publisher. "Great Britain still feels her enormous losses in men, money and material and the disruption of generations of trade connections through the world. She wants a chance to recover from the catastrophe that not only overtook her but the rest of the world."

B.C. Heads Winners

Canadian Egg Laying Contest Just Completed At Ottawa

Ottawa, Ont.—Fourteen hundred hens have just completed 51 weeks' laying in the Canadian and Ontario egg laying contests at the experimental farm here. Premier honors in the Canadian contest go to a pen of White Leghorns owned by T. H. Haywood of Langford, B.C., the ten hens laying 2,374 eggs for a total of 2,320.4 points. W. Bradley, owner of the second pen, White Leghorns, also hails from Langford. His birds laid 2,245 eggs and secured 2,220.5 points. Ontario claims third place through another pen of White Leghorns, owned by J. H. Jackson, of Port Dover. This pen laid 2,100 eggs and scored 2,178.8 points.

The 800 birds in the Canadian contest laid 131,999 eggs in the 51 weeks, which now constitutes the contest year.

Arm River Election

Dr. Waugh, Liberal Candidate Wins By Narrow Majority

Regina.—The government candidate, Dr. J. T. Waugh, captured the vacant seat in the Arm River by-election, having a majority of some fifty odd votes over his opponent, Stewart Adrian. Owing to the favorable weather and the unprecedented interest taken in the campaign, a heavy vote was polled. The total number of voters on the list is in the neighborhood of 6,000, and the total votes polled amounted to 5,517, or 91 per cent. of the possible vote.

Fight With Wolf

Chicoutimi, Que.—A wolf driven from the woods by hunger attacked a 70-year-old farmer, Joseph Girard, a resident of Ste. Rose de Lima, Saguenay district. Ten minutes after he had grappled and fought with the animal, the septuagenarian won the fight and the wolf lay dead. The man's only weapon was a staunch stick.

Overcomes Gravity Force

Strange Claim Made In England By Young Scientist

London, Eng.—R. H. Tate, young scientist, claims to have overcome the laws of gravity, according to despatches recently from West Hartlepool to the Daily Express.

The experiment was demonstrated in a secret laboratory test, when a piece of metal—absolutely unattached to anything—was suspended in mid-air, the despatches said.

Tate placed on the floor the metal which was said to resemble aluminum but was of a composition heretofore unknown, and placed a similar piece of metal above it in the air. The top metal remained suspended—not for just a moment, but for as long as Tate left it there.

"I have eliminated the force of gravity," Tate said. "The metal is not insulated and it is thought that the practical possibilities of the discovery are apparent. I have discovered the new force from known forces, by eliminating gravity from the metal. The composition of the metal is known only to myself, but among its possibilities is the controlling of aircraft from the ground."

Experts said that, if true, the discovery would be the greatest in centuries.

Straits Clear Of Ice

No Ice Yet Reported To Be Seen On Hudson Straits

Ottawa, Ont.—No ice is reported in Hudson Straits, according to the latest radio message from the wireless stations there. A few icebergs and growlers have been seen, while there is a film of ice on the lake shore, but in the seaway proper, the ice has not yet appeared. The Canadian government seamer, Montcalm, with the party in charge of Major N. B. McLean, of Ottawa, is at present lying off Button Islands, at the extreme tip of Labrador. Major McLean will remain there until all navigation in the straits has been closed.

The string of wireless stations along the straits and on to Churchill, are in close touch with each other, and with the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries in Ottawa. Wireless developments have been added to by the establishment of a private station, at Mistake Island, 150 miles north of Fort Churchill, by the North American Mining Exploration Company, and another station has appeared at Baker Lake, in from Chesterfield Inlet.

Albert Hermansson Will Represent Sweden and Finland

New York, N.Y.—The American Swedish News Exchange of New York has received a radiogram from Stockholm announcing the appointment of Albert Hermansson, former member of the Saskatchewan legislature, as Swedish consul in Winnipeg.

Mr. Hermansson, now a resident of Winnipeg, has been acting as vice-consul for Finland in Winnipeg, and he will now represent both countries.

Big Election Bet Covered

San Francisco.—An enthusiast for Gov. Alfred E. Smith, deposited $175,000 with Corbets, Inc., local commissioners with the provision that the money was to be used as a wager at odds of one to three that Smith will be elected president, the firm announced. Officials of Corbets, Inc., said friends of Herbert Hoover had covered the $175,000 with $525,000. It was believed to be the largest single bet in the United States so far.

Toronto, Ont.—Hon. W. H. Price, attorney-general for Ontario, announced that the Crown would bend every effort to facilitate any action undertaken by Wm. Haskins, of London, who was recently sentenced to prison for five years on a charge of manslaughter, towards securing a new trial, or securing his release on bail pending a revision of his case.

Earning Living In Circus

Paris.—The newspaper Paris Midi said that Alexander Subkoff, youthful husband of Princess Victoria Schaumburg-Lippe and a brother-in-law of the former Kaiser, was under contract to play in a cavalry act in the Paris late in the winter.

Wheat Pool Makes Denial

Are Not Holding Up Wheat Shipments In Order To Raise Prices

Winnipeg, Man.—E. B. Ramsay, secretary of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, has denied charges that the Canadian Wheat Pool is holding up shipments of wheat, and thus increasing the cost of flour and bread in England.

"Nobody in Canada is satisfied with the present level of wheat," declared Mr. Ramsay. However, we are not retarding shipments, but on the other hand, are not free sellers on the present price levels," he added.

From the point of view of the Canadian farmer, Mr. Ramsay continued, the prices are considered too low at present and "we find that the non-pool members are also of the same opinion." The non-pool members, he added, are storing their grain, awaiting acceptable prices.

World's Record Cow

Saskatchewan Cow Holds World's Championship As Butter Fat Producer

Moose Jaw.—According to official figures received here a Saskatchewan cow now holds the world's championship as a butterfat producer.

She is Canary Korndyke Alcartra, and is owned by Ben H. Thomson, Boharm, who is famed throughout western Canada for his livestock records. During the official test period of 305 days the cow produced 1,080 pounds of butter fat, which is 106 pounds higher than any previous records.

Also during the official test period the champion cow produced 26,396 pounds of milk, which gave an average butter fat test of 4.04. The cows was milked three times a day, and was fed on feed grown on Braeburn Farm, Boharm.

WOULD SHIP MARITIME COAL BY BAY ROUTE

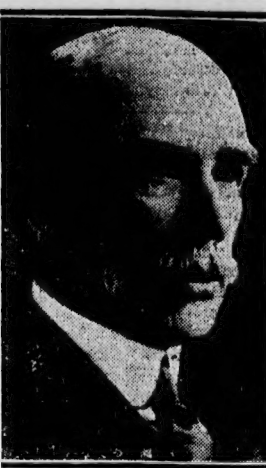

Winnipeg, Man.—Maritime provinces were considering the possibility that Maritime coal could be shipped to western Canadian points through Churchill on the completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway, Hance J. Logan, K.C., of Amherst, N.S., newly appointed director of the Canadian National Railways, stated here.

Mr. Logan said that serious opposition to the Hudson's Bay Railway project had never developed in the Maritimes and there was a feeling which he shared that whatever might be the success of the route for grain shipments the development in mining and colonization which it would encourage, would justify its construction. It had been one of the fortunate aspects of railway construction in Canada that some development had always taken place to justify the work.

Those interested in shipping Maritime coal to Churchill believed that many grain boats would be going back to the Bay which could stop at Sydney, Cape Breton and take on loads of coal.

Mr. Logan said Canadian National officials would confer with the Canadian Pacific Railway with respect to the Peace River Railways as soon as Sir Henry Thornton returned from England. He was convinced, he said, that the Peace River District formed a very important part of Canada and he hoped the "negotiations would be successful." He had been asked about the likelihood of the C.N.R. joining the C.P.R. in the ownership of the Alberta Northern Lines. Sir Henry was expected back during the next two weeks.

COLONIZATION PROBLEMS

COL. J. S. DENNIS, C.M.G.

Chief Commissioner, Department of Colonization and Development, Canadian Pacific Railway, who, for over fifty years, has been active in Canadian land settlement. An outstanding authority on Canadian immigration and colonization problems, he has recently concluded important plans with the British Government for the movement of British settlers to Canada.

Planning New Air Routes

Russia Wishes To Supplement Inadequate Railroad Service

Moscow.—More than 5,000 miles of new air lines will be opened in Soviet Russia next spring by the Soviet Air Transportation Company—"Dobrolet." The planning work is under way. The lines in every case are being laid out to supplement inadequate railroad service in the east and southeast.

Siberia, for the first time, will be connected with the European network of passenger and mail air routes, which now extend to Moscow. A daily service, 2,000 miles eastward to Irkutsk, near the Mongolian border, will be started in May in co-operation with the German Luft Hansa. With high flying, the distance will be covered in from 26 to 30 hours. It now takes five days by train.

Another air line will connect Alma Ata (where Leon Trotsky is in exile) with Novosibirsk over the route of the uncompleted Turkestan-Siberian railway. Several new lines are planned in the Volga Valley. German Junkers planes will be used upon all the lines.

Federal Assistance Needed

Premier To Inquire Of B.C. Thinkers Government Should Aid In Building Roads

Vancouver, B.C.—The Federal government should again initiate the policy in effect between 1919 and 1925 whereby the provinces could earn grants of assistance in building trunk roads, Premier S. F. Tolmie, said in the course of an address to the Vancouver Board of Trade.

The Premier said it was time the Federal government recognized the trend of modern times and give assistance to the provinces in the matter of roads. The Dominion government, he remarked, through the post-office and other departments was one of the biggest users of roads.

Four Killed In Plane Crash

Tucson, Ariz.—Four youths are dead here following a crash when a Ryan Brougham monoplane plunged against the side of a mountain while in full flight. The crash occurred when the plane, soaring over the Catalina mountains in search of Bill Hyatt, 18, reported there, hit an air pocket. The ship caught fire after crashing and was demolished. Its occupants were burned to death.

Holding Swine Club Tests

Winning Teams Will Go To Royal Winter Fair

Winnipeg, Man.—Preliminary arrangements have been completed by the Canadian National Railways for the interprovincial boys' and girls' swine club competition, which will be held on November 21, at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto. Six provinces will be represented this year and the results of the provincial competitions will decide the teams which are to go to Toronto.

Teams from each province will be the guests of the National system during the week of the Royal Fair, and the entertainment of the boys and girls will include a trip to Niagara Falls and a visit to the Donalds Farms, just outside of Toronto.

In the past two years teams from Roland, Manitoba, have won and successfully defended the W. D. Robb Trophy, which is emblematic of interprovincial championship. The cup is held by the winning team for one year. Gold medals are presented to the winning team from each province.

Will Dredge For Gold

Syndicate Will Operate On River Near Medicine Hat

Medicine Hat, Alta.—A syndicate composed of local men, assisted by Vancouver and United States capital, has leased ninety miles of river front below this city and is conducting tests preparatory to dredging the gravel for gold. Some thirty years ago there was considerable activity of this nature along the river, the old hand panning process being followed with returns averaging four dollars a day for experts. George L. Holms, San Francisco engineer, is in charge of the tests.

JOURNALISM OF TODAY IS OF A HIGH STANDARD

New York.—Frank B. Noyes, of the Washington Star, president of the Associated Press, told a group of representative industrialists here that newspapers as a whole were "worthy of the confidence of their readers."

Speaking at the fifth annual conference of major industries held at Columbia University, Mr. Noyes said he thought everyone familiar with journalism in the last fifty years would agree "that in accuracy, statement, in breadth of information, in ethical standards, there had been a steady progress upward."

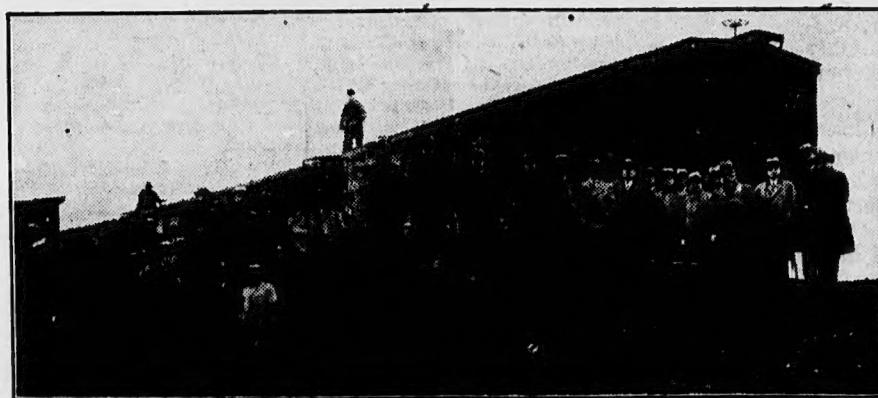

Mr. Noyes, appearing as the representative of the publishing industry, said that the reports of newspapers and press associations did contain "many inaccuracies" since they were the products of human beings, but he gave assurance that "the intention is to fairly and accurately depict the situation described."

He defended modern journalism against forms of attack and criticism, which he said were unjust and unwarranted.

"As it is I am serenely conscious of the fact that we are doing our level best day in and day out, to keep in the middle of the road, having no partiality for any party and church, any economic theory or any cause or man whatever, and on the other hand no hostility to any of them."

"There have been venal newspaper men as there have been venal doctors, lawyers, business men and even venal politicians, but God be thanked that the newspaper crooks are few and far between."

INTERESTED IN HANDLING OF GRAIN CROPS

Five Thousand Miners Remain In Canada

Have Until February To Return Under Special Arrangements

Winnipeg, Man.—Of the 8,500 British miners who came to Canada this year to work in the harvest fields under government auspices, 3,800 have returned home, according to officials concerned in their handling.

A considerable number still are in Winnipeg waiting for jobs in their various trades, while farm placements for those still in the country have been arranged in many cases.

The special arrangements under which the men were brought over permit their return to the Old Country up to next February, after which official responsibility will cease.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON NOVEMBER 4

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY

Golden Text: "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; love therefore is the fulfillment of the law."—Romans 13:10.

Lesson: Romans 13:1-14. Devotional Reading: Psalm 15.

Explanations and Comments

Obedience To Civil Authority a Christian Duty, verses 1-7.—"Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?" was the burning question which the Pharisees brought to Jesus, and you recall how He answered. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's." A great part of the Jews were always questioning the lawfulness of paying taxes and of recognizing the authority of the Roman Government. The Jews of Rome had been especially turbulent, and of this Paul must have heard many accounts from Priscilla and Aquila, who had been forced to leave Rome on account of the trouble. In writing to the Romans, therefore, Paul was naturally led to take up the question of the Christian's relation to the civil authority.

"Let every soul be in subjection to the higher powers—those in authority, the civil rulers, he counseled, and then by means of two clauses, one negative and the other positive, he asserted that the fact of the authority being established argues that it was ordained of God.

"The Roman Empire maintained law and order, protected life and property, and was on the whole, as Paul believed, a beneficent power. Nero, the reigning emperor, was, it is true, a dissolute young man who often arbitrarily did as he pleased with the lives of his subjects, but at the time Paul was writing, persecution of the Christians had come from other Jews or from popular riots, and not from the Roman Government. At Paphos (Acts 13), Thessalonica (Acts 17), Corinth (Acts 18), and at Ephesus (Acts 19), Paul had found the Roman officials a restraining power to his persecutors. Noteworthy is it, that after Paul had appealed to Rome and had been kept in confinement for some time without trial, he wrote to Timothy, 1 Tim. 2:1, 2: "I exhort therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men; for kings, and for all that are in high places, that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and gravity."

"If our laws are not Christian, then it is our business to make them Christian; if those in authority do not represent Christian ideals, we are not to deny authority, but to secure legislators and governors whose ideals are Christian. We are more fortunate than those to whom the apostle wrote; we have some say about the laws which are to be enacted and the officials who execute them."—Gaius Glenn Atkins.

Ottawa, Ont.—The department of railways and canals soon will issue a statement giving full particulars of the season's work at Fort Churchill. S. W. MacLachlan, chief engineer of the department, has just returned from an inspection tour and the statement will be based upon his report.

It is understood that the construction on the harbor works is proceeding and the entire program for the season was accomplished.

The port will not be ready for shipping as quickly as the railway, but this is said to be unavoidable unless the government spends a large sum of money in overcoming the difficulties in building due to the present inaccessibility of the harbor.

When the railway is completed it will be easier to take in supplies and workmen.

There were no accidents this season and the department is pleased with the progress being made.

Would Use Submarine To Explore Antarctic

Wilkins Hopes To Have Assistance Of British Government

Montevideo, Uruguay.—Antarctic exploration by submarine is a possibility which is being considered by Sir George Hubert Wilkins. He spoke of this just before he sailed from here on the Whaler Hektor for Deception Island, where he intends to establish a base for exploration by air of large spaces in the Antarctic.

He indicated that it might be two years before he was ready to undertake the submarine exploration and that he hoped the British Government would then be willing to aid him. The boat would be used to gather data on ocean currents and sea life and chemistry.

Clean Law Administration

British Columbia Will Not Resort To Use Of "Stool Pigeons"

Victoria, B.C.—"Stool pigeons" must not be employed by British Columbia provincial police under a policy announced by Hon. F. H. Pooley, attorney-general.

"The police of this province are going to operate on a clean, above-board basis and the use of stool pigeons will never form a part of their methods," Mr. Pooley said, adding, "The police will never use agents to persuade persons to break the law in order to get convictions. Practices of that kind cannot be tolerated."

The coat contest staged last week by Ramsay Mercantile Ltd. was brought to a close Saturday evening at 9 p.m., with great crowds awaiting the sorting of the big box of ballots. It was estimated that every Indian on the Reserve, who was in town last week had guesses in on the weight of the stone and many of them had 25 to 50 claims in the box. When the big pile was sorted up it was found that Clarence Woods was the lucky customer, he had 94 1/2 pounds on one of his tickets and that represented exactly the weight of the stone. He got his valuable coat and left happy. The affair was a decided success and its novel features appealed to the firm's customers in good shape.

What Makes a Town?

A prosperous rural population which demands a community centre where may be established business, educational, religious and entertainment facilities. Where these flourish and are active it is safe to surmise that the people of that section realize and appreciate the value to them of such a centre.

WHAT MAINTAINS IT?

The towns are largely maintained by the surrounding districts. But the organization, the direction, and in a great measure the up-keep, of the institutions in such towns, are in the hands of the business interests, together with those directly and indirectly connected therewith. Without the active business and professional men to supervise and govern these public institutions and undertakings no town could thrive.

WHO IS MAINLY AFFECTED?

Every citizen either in or about town should be concerned in seeing to it that they do their part in carrying on any good cause which may be promoted, either by financial or active support. Only in this way will any town prosper and develop as it should.

PUBLICITY IS REQUIRED.

In promotion work your local paper takes the leading part. It is ever the champion of all worthy causes and philanthropic and patriotic undertakings. But to function properly, and fully carry out its natural prerogatives, it must in turn have the financial support of the community it serves. When needing advertising or printed matter always first think of
